

Otterspeer, Haasnoot & Partners, Dutch & International Tax Counsel, located in Rotterdam, is an independent tax boutique which serves foreign and domestic clients, with a focus on international tax law. In addition to tax advice and tax compliance services, transfer pricing and tax assurance are also within the scope of our practice. At Otterspeer, Haasnoot & Partners, we value knowledge development. It is the only way to realize our ambition: converting knowledge into added value and certainty to our clients.

Our partners and senior tax advisors have extensive experience gained from working at renowned law firms and Big Four accounting firms, as well as at the Tax Administration and the Dutch Ministry of Finance. Together with highly skilled and specialized lawyers, accountants, and civil law notaries from other independent firms, we serve the interests of our clients worldwide. Independence is always the heart of this successful cooperation. A comprehensive overview of our firm's profile can be found on our website, www.ohp.nl.

As our practice is growing consistently we are particularly interested in meeting a talented and ambitious:

ASSOCIATE TAX ADVISOR

Position summary

As a tax advisor you will be active in both the domestic and international tax practice. You will advise our clients on a broad scope of tax services (including but not limited to: corporate income tax, income tax, wage tax, VAT, real property transfer tax, and dividend withholding tax) with a personal approach. You will be engaged in a diversified client portfolio consisting of both domestic and foreign clients.

At Otterspeer, Haasnoot & Partners, we value knowledge development. It is the only way to realize our ambition: converting knowledge into added value and certainty to our clients.

Requirements

As a tax advisor with approximately 2 to 4 years of relevant experience, you have proven affinity with both domestic and international tax law. You aspire independent entrepreneurship in a professional environment which continuously aspires high standards of excellence. Service mindedness, flexibility, the ability to convince and the ability to put yourself in your client's shoes, are among your strong qualities. Your commercial attitude is also a welcome asset. Fluency in English is a must, fluency in other important trade languages is appreciated. Last but not least, you are a team player.

We offer

The opportunity to become part of a team of professionals who advise a diversified client portfolio, a challenging work environment, professional education opportunities, a cooperative, personal, and pleasant atmosphere, and outstanding primary and secondary employee benefits. Our organizational structure offers excellent career advancing opportunities and room for growth, as well as frequent client contact.
